Vernacular Declaration

I, _____ ("Borrower" or "me"), hereby understands that this declaration of vernacular language is in my vernacular language best known to me.

I further understand that for understanding the contents of the Financing Documents, I shall require to take the assistance of a person conversant with the Financing Documents' language for taking me through and explaining me fully and thoroughly in my vernacular language, each and every term of the Financing Documents.

I shall ensure that prior to proceeding further, the same is explained to me in the aforesaid manner for clearly understanding the contents of the Financing Documents.

I hereby agree and understand that by proceeding with the Financing Documents' execution to avail of the credit facilities/Loan from the Lender/Company i.e. Akara Capital Advisors Private Limited, it is hereby understood that I have been explained all terms and conditions by a third party and understand its implications before proceeding further with the signing of the Financing Documents.

The executed Financing Documents shall constitute my valid and binding acceptance of the terms contained therein as the Borrower.
